

A WORD ABOUT SIZE...

We're not as big as ADT.¹ They are huge.

But we're not exactly small, either. We protect more than $10 billion in assets nationwide.

So when you get right down to it, we're somewhere in between huge and small. Or as we like to put it, just the right size.

Big enough to be an industry leader when it comes to innovation, yet small enough so we can lead the industry when it comes to customer satisfaction.

At UAS, we prefer the words of one of our customers who said, "UAS is the only three-letter alarm company that calls you back."

So when you are selecting a security and alarm services partner, contact the company that is just the right size!
